OUR OUT-OF-TOWN FRIENDS

Are now invited to visit us in Temporary Quarters, 321 West Market, between Third and Fourth, North side. We will remain here until Feb. 1893, when we go back to our old corner and into our new house. And in the mean time business must be done on the "From-hand-to-hand" principle. We'll always be crowded for room, and will have to have our stock as fast as it comes in. Our motto must be

"Keep Moving"

And we propose to live up to it by a continuous system of "Moving" prices. We must buy as many goods as ever, and we must sell them. So we'll take chances. Don't come to Louisville without paying us a visit. Order by mail if you can't come.

Mr. Theo. Tycer, and old and respected citizen who has been sick for a long time died last week.

John R. Jarboe, John Stout and Thos. Jarboe, of Mooreville, were in the city on the big day.

Hans Morgan, City Marshal of Stephenspoet, was in Louisville a couple of days last week.

Hon. G. W. Beane and wife, of Hardinsburg, attended the Goodson concert Monday night.

If you want a perfect fitting shirt and one that will give you good service, call on Ernest Balchase.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coon, of Meade county, were the guests of Mrs. Bassett several days last week.

The Rev. Dr. Cottrill is here, a guest of his daughter Mrs. G. W. Short. He will remain several weeks.

Joe D. Jolly, of near Hardinsburg, has bought a lot in the Eastland addition and built a house at once.

Quite a crowd of Mooreville people chartered the steamer Louisville and came up to attend the Goodson concert.

Mrs. Mary Solberg the venerable mother of Mr. Henry Solberg, died at her old home in Leopold, Ind. last week.

The city was full of wagons from the country yesterday, and the merchants seemed to be doing a very good business.

The Patton brick works are running every day now, getting a lot of green brick ahead. They will begin to burn soon.

If you want a lot in the Eastland addition you had better call on Pierce & Short at once. They are moving things rapidly.

Mr. Jas. T. Sublette has removed from Big Spring to Clover Bend, Ark., and desires the News to follow him. Says he can't get along without it.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Scott Vance arrived yesterday evening from Pierce City, Mo., where they had been visiting their parents for the last three weeks.

Carl Richardson of Union Star, has come to reside with his wife. He will visit New York, Washington, Philadelphia and other cities before he returns.

Dr. H. S. Basham, of Cannelton, was in the city last Wednesday and called at this office to meet old friends and offer the News sent to his address.

Mr. Will Miller graduated at Prof. Almond's private school at Louisville last week. He will enter upon the study of medicine, and will attend a Louisville medical school next year. He is a son of Dr. Wm. Miller, of Union Star.

Both the John R. Villa and the D. F. Bell cases against the Breckenridge Company (limited) were continued in the U. S. Circuit Court at Owensboro last week, but it is rumored that both have been compromised since.

The Acme Brick Works are putting things rapidly. The machinery is being placed and they will be making brick in about two weeks. They have one large Enslin kiln completed and another built to the arch. They will build seven of these before they stop.

Persons desiring lots in Eastland, must secure them at once, as Mr. Pierce thinks they have but very few remaining. Buildings are going up rapidly in this beautiful little suburb, and it will soon be dotted with neat little cottages and in consequence values will be much higher.

A grand concert has been running in the "Incubator" for several nights now. Among other things to be seen there is a man who eats nails, tacks and oil iron; chews up and swallows broken glass, beer mugs, etc., eats up raw chickens—hair, feathers and all—swallows whole rats, mules, etc.

Harry Moorman, one of Sulzer's electric clerks, is the happy possessor of a violin worth $100. It is a superb toned, loud instrument, and its general appearance shows it to be a work of the "old masters." It is branded "Antonius Stradivarius Cremonensis, Faciebat Anno 1721".

Dr. G. Goldstein and brother, the eminent opticians, of Louisville, will be at the Cloverport Hotel, June 23d and remain three days only. They come well equipped to fit all the ailments of the eye. The doctor says that much has been learned in the past few years in regard to fitting glasses. The eyes suffer from a disease of the eye and lead will do well to give him a call, as he guarantees immediate relief. The doctor can refer to thousands of the best people of this state as to his skill as a practical optician. Consultation and examination free.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bowmer announce the engagement of their daughter, Catherine, to W. J. Sherman, of Dallas, Texas.

The marriage to take place at the steps of the Breckenridge News, July 14th, at 8 o'clock.

THEY DID COME.

THE BRECKENRIDGE NEWS EXCURSION A CROWNING SUCCESS.

A Crowded Train Load Of Our Friends Came To See Us And Pass A Pleasant Day.

Cloverport Puts On Her Sunday Clothes And Gives Them A Royal Welcome.

COME AGAIN, FRIENDS.

The Breckenridge News excursion from Paducah to Cloverport last Friday was a grand success. More than 400 of our old-time friends gladdened our hearts by their presence, and the day was passed in pleasant land-slaking and the friendly chats of old associates. The croakings of the ancients and the dark predictions of those afflicted with the evil eye came to naught, and the people did come regardless of the many doubtful shakes of the head given when the subject was mentioned, by those who either have very faint hearts or very little enterprise about them.

The success of this trip proves that there is still a hot place for Cloverport in the hearts of the people who live in the back part of the county, and all that is necessary for us to resume our old relations with that section is to offer the proper inducements, and the people will do their part.

THE TRIP IN DETAIL.

The train consisted of four coaches, manned as follows: Jerry Gannone, engineer; P. Kramer, fireman; B. F. Harrell, conductor; and Frank Chappell, brakeman—a big burly of no slender build, nor was he overwrought, turned a crank, pulled a throttle or rang a bell.

The News was represented by V. G. Babbage and Clayton Carson.

We left Paducah on exact schedule time, 6 o'clock a. m., and had gathered a large crowd from all along the road to Paducah.

When the train was started, the crowd reached the last car of the train was unlocked, and more than a hundred people came aboard, including the Hardinsburg Cornet Band, and the people of more than its seating capacity, and the crowds that came aboard further on had to either sit on the arms of the seats or stand in the aisle, or hang on to the sides of the train.

Arrived at Cloverport, the crowd scattered themselves all over the city—some visiting friends or relatives; others, the various business houses, gas wells, brick plants, car shops, etc. The Hardinsburg band paraded the streets and discoursed music that was a surprise to Cloverport, as we were so many others. It was not generally known that we had had so good a band so near us, and it may be truthfully said that it can not be beaten in this section of the country.

In fact it rivals the best of bands heard in large cities.

To this day the way was passed until train time again, when the visitors gathered at the depot. Many Cloverporters were present to see the departure, and the train pulled out amid the waving of many handkerchiefs and shouts of "good-by."

And thus was ended a gala day for Cloverport.

Financially the excursion was also a success. We don't say that we made a profit, but we mean that it did all that we asked of it or expected it to do. It was not intended for a money-making scheme, and we did not expect it to be such. We estimated closely about what sized crowd we could expect and placed the rates at such low figures that it would just about pay our expenses.

We wanted the people to get the benefit of the low rates, and we gave it to them. We wanted a success as a large crowd, and that we got. And the Breckenridge News and the citizens of Cloverport will ever feel grateful to the people for their liberal patronage on that day.

In the name of the citizens of Cloverport, we wish to say to the people who visited us on that day, and to those who stand at home, also, "let us renew our acquaintance and fellowship, let us tear down the barriers that seem to exist between us, and stand together, shoulder to shoulder, working for each other's interests, as we used to. Let us have more of these cheap excursions and cultivate the acquaintance that has been so pleasantly begun." Cloverport will meet the people more than half way, if they will do the rest.

SOURCES.
There is some fun on a crowded train after all.

Most every business house was nicely decorated.

The merchants say they did a good business.

The school men did well, but no body was drunk.

The hand boys looked well in their handsome uniforms.

Everybody was well behaved, not a single arrest during the day.

Everybody was well pleased with the trip and said he was coming again.

When we turned on the gas from one of our big wells the terrific noise frightened the visitors.

Charlie Lishen, representative of the Cook Brewery Company, was the hustling man in the city—kept busy with his pony cart and delivering loads of the famous beverage.

If Hardinsburg wants anything from the Breckenridge News, all she has to do is to name it.

It was a representative body of people. The very best citizens from all sections of the county being present.

It was a conspicuous fact and one noted by everybody, that it was one of the nicest and most orderly excursions ever run on either road.

Cloverport didn't look natural to the children of twenty-five years ago. They could hardly realize the great change.

The agents along both lines who so kindly assisted in selling tickets have been thanked. Mr. Whitworth, the clever agent at Hardinsburg, was the banner man, selling 87 tickets.

Our advertisers can now have some idea of the class of people they talk to every week. The entire delegation with but few exceptions are either subscribers or readers of the Breckenridge News.

Miss Goodson's Concert.
A crowded house greeted Miss Ella Goodson and her musical concert Monday night. Not only were Cloverporters present, but visitors from Hardinsburg, Irvington, Hawesville and other places up and down the road were there.

All those who took part in the entertainment acquitted themselves splendidly, and the pupils of Miss Goodson, especially, showed by their perfect performance that great skill and care had been taken in their instruction. The parents and teachers of these accomplished children have much of which they may feel proud.

The program was a long and interesting one, and every part of it was rendered with an accuracy of perfection that only naturally gifted and well trained persons can accomplish. More especially was the singing of Mrs. J. R. Wimp and Miss Ellen Munford good, and the audience revelled in it with such gusto that of them was more repeated encore.

Miss Francis Goodson also sang well, and Miss Mary Ashburn delivered her "Singing Song" in a sweet, clear voice, and she was so far along in the program that the audience had grown tired and she did not catch the house as she would have done had she sung earlier in the evening.

Our trustee has purchased a fine road scraper for the purpose of keeping our roads in better shape, but as the scraper is so heavy, it is too hard on the farmers. Our trustee desires me to inform the farmers who are afraid to use their horses in it, that it is easy on horses, and it need not soon put our roads in good condition. We know our worthy trustee would not buy anything only for the best.

Mug's Good One.
The Frankfort correspondent of the Louisville Commercial has this to say of our Representative, "Mr. D. H. Severs, the able representative from Breckenridge, has been one of the staunchest supporters of the anti-trust report and judicial reorganization, and the success of that bill in the House is due to his tireless work in its behalf. Severs is a hard worker, a game fighter, and watches closely the interests of his people."

Amner Dent, the blacksmith, went to Owensboro Monday to renew his stock of iron, steel, etc.

Henry Water. Wm. J. Water. John M. Bortranger.

Is It Warm Enough?

If not, it will be very soon, and you can not do better than prepare for the hot weather that is not far off. Some people are still wearing part of their winter suit, which is the best evidence that they have nothing thinner to wear.
